

so long as one could do more, and he made a remark which led me to ask him if he thought a Kafir could reach Paradise ? He answered " Oh no !"
very hastily, but after a moment's thought said, " I don't know, God knows, He doesn't think as we do, He may be more merciful than we think. If Kafirs fear God they may have some Paradise to themselves, we don't know."
